A Career For A Change!

Here's a chance to make a real career breakthrough. Join the hundreds of men and women who are trading their jobs for careers in the Houston Police Department.

These are some reasons why you may want to join them:

Good Pay.

During your first 16 weeks of training, you get $863 per month. After one year, you'll be making over $10,000 a year, and $13,000 after three years. As the department grows, so will the opportunity for advancement.

No Waiting Lists. A lot of people think we just have a few openings every year. Actually, Houston's growth has created many new career opportunities. If you qualify, you'll be accepted. It's as simple as that.

Benefits. Three-week vacation after just a year. Nine paid holidays. Credit Unions. Hospitalization. Full tuition college scholarships, and retirement after 20 years are just some of the many advantages.

The People In Your Community Need You. Being a police officer is a lot more than just fighting crime. Mostly, it's dealing with and helping people in the community solve problems. As a police officer you have a unique opportunity to work with young people and help prepare them for a better future.

Here's What Happens If You Apply. We have moved into the 18th floor of the One Allen Center building, 500 Dallas at Smith. Come by anytime between 8-5 p.m., Monday thru Friday. Or, 8-4 p.m. Saturday. You'll first fill out a two page application and then have a half hour interview with one of our recruiters. This is to answer your questions about what we have to offer. Because of the tremendous responsibility you would carry as a police officer, We naturally will want to look at your background.

This takes about two weeks. If accepted, you'll enter the next academy class.

Primary Requirements.

Applicants must be 19-35 years old, in good health, and be high school graduates or equivalent. All applicants must be at least 5'6" tall and in good physical condition.

For more information, come down and visit us. No appointment is necessary. Or, for a free brochure, call us at 222-4041.

An Equal Opportunity Employer.

Join the Houston Police new faces.

The TSU Experience

TSU President, Dr. Granville M. Sawyer involved in discussion with students.

Texas Southern University, as a special purpose institution of higher education for urban programming, aspires, through the operation of its organizational enterprise to:

-Provide a setting conducive to the development of leadership in all aspects of urban society through programs of intellectual, moral, social, and career education;

-Expand knowledge through applied and basic research;

-Promote excellence and perpetuate achievement via the utilization of democratic processes and contemporary technology; and

-Address, in ways appropriate to an institution of higher learning, the needs of an increasingly urban world.

Texas Southern University (TSU) is the third largest predominately minority public university in America. Founded in 1926 as a private junior college, the institution became a four year college in 1934. Serving as an educational access point for minorities, the institution was designated "Texas Southern University for Negroes" in 1947. Four years later the racial designation was dropped from the institutional name.

The first year of academic activity as a State University found slightly more than two thousand (2,019) students enrolled. The student population doubled by 1963 (4,037) and increased again more than half as much by the Spring of 1975 (7,500).

EARLY GROWTH

Through the early years as a private college, the institution existed on whatever meager resources the community could provide. Even after receiving a state university designation, TSU's resources were allocated on the basis of racial identification, rather than function under a dual and inherently unequal educational system. The cumulative impact of this financial deprivation is pervasive in its residual effects, and is vitally significant relative to the institutional strength built through intense struggle.

During the 1960s, society in general and education specifically, experienced telling conflict. The "Civil Rights" revolution and the rapid rise of technology focused the societal spotlight on the role of higher education as an ameliorating influence on these problems. For minorities, higher education became the access point for entry into America's economic mainstream. The lowering of racial barriers to employment produced many new job opportunities which were dependent on the possession of skills and competencies gained through higher education. Concurrently, the increased application of technology continues to be a major factor in the rapid urbanization of metropolitan areas which has occurred during the decade.

URBAN DYNAMICS

For Texas Southern these events have made a marked impact on institutional strategies. At once, TSU was faced with an enlarged population needing a wide variety of educational services in order to take advantage of new career options, while a more differentiated population required continuing and advanced higher education. But even more, the nation's higher education establishment was being challenged to have an immediate and direct impact on the sources of many of our difficult problems emanating from a decreasing quality of life in urban centers. The dual effect of urbanization and technology created an "urban preplexity" for which there were no ready made solutions, nor were there sufficient numbers of people trained to solve the difficult problems attendant to these conditions.

Historically, TSU has served students from growing regional urban centers, while being an integral part of Houston's urban system. The institution has taken students from urban lower income families inadequately prepared for higher education, and through innovatively devised programs designed to minimize these deficiencies, produced a competitive product.

TSU recognizes that it has developed an unusual competence in and understanding of the urban dynamics through its teaching functions and geographic location. The critical question that TSU had to face in the late 1960s was "how does a predominately minority institution, existing in a society trying to cope with the irreversible effects of urbanization and technology, define a creative role for itself for the future?"

NEW DIRECTIONS

In 1968, a series of Mid-Winter Planning Conferences began that involved the University's Regents, Faculty, students, administrators, alumni and community representatives. The conferences had a dual focus of evaluation of past performance and the development of projections to guide future efforts. As the many recommendations coming out of these deliberations were codified, a clear picture began to emerge relative to an institutional role and scope. The real institutional strength of the faculty, students and administrators was in the preparation of students for urban careers while at the same time rendering the much needed research and services to the nation's urban centers. At one point, for example, we discovered that TSU had produced more than 20% of the teachers in the Houston Independent School District.

The resulting definition of emphasis was sensible in several ways. First, it recognized the historical contribution of TSU to its clients and clientele area since its founding. Second, it recognized the unique potential of TSU to carve out a sphere of excellence to benefit a highly techno-urban society.

In 1973, the University Administration and The Board of Trustees (now Board of Regents) chartered a new destiny for TSU. University leadership requested and received an added designation of "a special purpose institution of higher education for urban Programming" by Act of the 63rd Texas Legislature.

This Act did not make Texas Southern anew, however; it did provide relatedness to the University's history as a touchstone, while opening a variety of broad new opportunities. TSU President Granville M. Sawyer recognized early the need for new attitudes for the task, new understandings for all viewpoints, and new perceptions of how things can be done around this new institutional focus. Clearly, the University would seek to shed its recognition by race alone, and move to a recognition by excellence and function in the perception of its many publics.

DR. R. PAIGE,
Athletic Director

The responsibility of guiding the Texas Southern University athletic program through the fast moving seventies and keeping pace with the rapid growth of other areas of the university belongs to Dr. Roderick Paige, athletic director.

In addition, Dr. Paige has taken upon himself to bring to TSU "an excellence in athletics" that will be second to none in the nation. This applies not only to football, but to swimming, tennis, men and women track, basketball, golf and baseball. TSU's track, tennis and swimming teams are as nationally known as those in football and basketball.

Dr. Paige is the fifth athletic director as well as the fifth head football coach at TSU since its inception in 1947. He is a graduate of Jackson State College. He got his first job in the coaching and administrative field as athletic director and football and basketball coach at Utica Junior College in Mississippi in 1957.

In 1963 he became an assistant coach at his alma mater before being appointed head coach in 1964. In five years as mentor of the Southwestern Athletic Conference school, he compiled a 27-17-2 record.

In 1969 he returned to Indiana University to earn his doctorate degree in Physical Education. Also in 1969 and 1970 he was an assistant coach at the University of Cincinnati.

After an intensive search, the TSU president chose Dr. Paige as the new AD and football coach because of his "combination of coaching, educational and administrative experience."

ASSISTANT COACHES & STAFF

HENRY LATTIMORE – Defensive Coordinator

Lattimore is a graduate of Jackson State College; former high school head coach; assistant coach at Utica Junior College in 1962 under Paige; was an assistant under Paige at Jackson State from 1964 to 1968; defensive coach at North Carolina Central University at Durham in 1969 and 1970; besides being defensive coordinator, he coaches the defensive backs where, in the past four years, he has produced some of the Southwestern Athletic Conference's top defenders including Mike Holmes, David Thomas and Canary Simmons. All three were chosen All SWAC. Lattimore is also the assistant head football coach.

COGER COVERSON – Defensive Line Coach

Coverson played his high school football at Houston Yates under Pat Patterson before accepting a football scholarship to TSU. In his four years (1964-1967) at TSU he was All SWAC at linebacker (1966) and offensive guard (1967). He has a couple of stints at professional football before settling down to a coaching career first at his old school Yates in 1969, then to Reagan High where he was defensive coordinator and in 1971 to TSU. This past summer, Coverson completed the Masters requirement in the field of Health and Physical Education. The native Houstonian is in charge of the Houston area recruiting and community relations.

TONY SEXTON – Linebacker Coach

Sexton was an outstanding defensive back during his years at the University of Cincinnati. A 1971 graduate, he starred three years; was Defensive Back of the Year in 1969; won the Stick of the Week Award of outstanding performance against Tulsa in 1970. A former All State player from York, Pennsylvania, he played in the Big 33 game against the Texas high school stars in 1967. Sexton is one of the outstanding young coaches in SWAC. Besides coaching the linebackers for the defense, Sexton, a Business Administration graduate, also works in the athletic business office.

TOMMY WILLIAMS – Offensive Coordinator

Williams is a native of Beggs, Oklahoma where he played football for Wheatley high. He played defensive end for Jackson State in Mississippi where he earned a B.S. degree. He was an outstanding head football and basketball coach at Jim Hill High School in Jackson, Mississippi from 1953 to 1970. During that time his team won two state and five city championships in football and five state championships in basketball. In 1970 he was an assistant coach in charge of the backfield at Tennessee State before getting the call from Coach Paige and moving to Houston. In the past four years, at least one Tiger from the offensive backfield has made the All SWAC team. In 1973, Williams had the honor of coaching an All SWAC backfield with Montgomery at quarterback, Pough at tailback and Holmes at fullback.

MARSHALL HATTIX – Offensive Line

Hattix is in his second year as offensive line coach. Hattix played college football as a quarterback for the SWAC's Alcorn State Braves 1963-1967. He has been Head Coach and Athletic Director of Pass Christian School District in Mississippi (1967-71); Field Director of the Federal Recreation Program of Model Cities in Houston (1971-73) and Chairman of the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at South Texas Junior College. Despite a late appointment at coach of the baseball team at TSU, Hattix made quite an impression in that area of sports, too.

RICK HOLDEN – Receivers

Holden is not exactly the newest member of the TSU coaching staff. After performing for several years as an outstanding defensive back for the Tigers in the late sixties, Rick was graduate assistant coach, totally in charge of the defensive secondary under former head coach Alfred Benefield in 1970. Holden will be in charge of receivers in his latest job. For the past two years he has been the defensive backfield coach for the Jesse H. Jones High School team in Houston. He also was employed as assistant coach in the school basketball and baseball programs and head coach in tennis.

RONALD HOLMES – Graduate Assistant Offensive Line

Holmes joins the TSU coaching staff as a graduate assistant and will help with the offensive line, an area in which he is thoroughly familiar. Holmes played his football at TSU from 1969-1972. During that time he made the Southwestern Athletic Conference football team three times including twice as a guard (1970 and 1972) and once as a center (1971). He was selected to at least one All American team his senior year as a center. With this experience, he will be extremely valuable to Coach Hattix.

JOHN HARVEY – Athletic Trainer

Harvey brings to TSU considerable experience as an athletic trainer. He has performed his duty at the Addine School District, Austin School District, Prairie View A&M University and Houston Independent School District. Having polished his expertise by working in several camps of National Football League teams, Harvey has a distinction of being on the staff of the old Houston Texans of the World Football League, before returning to the collegiate ranks and TSU in August, 1974. He is an active member of the National Trainers Association.

STEVE HOOPER – Equipment Manager

Hooper is in charge of purchasing, distributing, repairing and maintaining all athletic equipment. For the football team his duties as equipment manager includes the transporting of all equipment to and from stadiums whether the chore is at home or away. Hooper first came in contact with the post while working as a student at TSU. He is a 1973 graduate of TSU. Presently he is also the Assistant Director of Housing for the University.

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION*WILLIAM GLOSSON – Assistant Athletic Director

The former two time TSU All American end (1957-58) first joined the TSU athletic staff in 1961 as coach of the receivers following a tour of duty in the armed services. He resigned in 1967 to accept the head coaching position at Mississippi Valley State where he was head mentor in 1968 and 1969. He rejoined the Tiger staff as assistant athletic director and head golf coach in 1970. Besides assisting Paige in an administrative capacity, Glosson is in charge of scheduling all athletic events, equipment inventories, supervision of athletics relative to campus and academic life and handles community relations for the department of athletics.

WILLIAM F. HARRIS – Director of Athletic Marketing

Bill Harris is a relative newcomer to Houston (since December 1973) and to Texas Southern University (since June 1975). As head of our new Athletic Marketing Department, his responsibility is to plan, organize and administer a comprehensive program to market the TSU Athletic Program to it's various audience segments through information distribution, advertising, promotions, sales (tickets and program advertising), and public relations. He will also be active in fund raising and athlete recruiting efforts. Bill comes to TSU with about eleven years marketing experience — four of which were spent with Young & Rubicam/New York (the second largest advertising agency in the world) as an Account Executive, Copywriter and Associate Producer. For the last year and a half, prior to joining the TSU Athletic Staff, he was Executive Vice President of a Houston based advertising agency which he cofounded.

BILLY C. MORRIS – Director of Sports Information

Morris functions as assistant head of our new athletic marketing system. His job as sports information director is to facilitate the news media's coverage of TSU athletics by providing news releases, keeping statistics, editing information brochures and game programs, arranging press conferences and coordinating half-time ceremonies and awards. He is a member of SWAC and NAIA sports information organizations as well as a member of COSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America).

TONY SEXTON – Fiscal Manager / LINDA WYNN – Assist. Fiscal Manager

Along with his duties as Linebacker Coach, Tony Sexton also functions as Athletic Fiscal Manager. He and Assistant Fiscal Manager, Ms. Linda Wynn are in charge of disbursement of the athletic budget — and oversee all income received and expenditures involving the athletic department. Their duties also include ticket management for all TSU sponsored athletic events. Ms. Wynn is a 1974 graduate of Texas Southern University, holding a BA in Business Administration.

TSU PASSING WHIZ GARLAND MONTGOMERY

Montgomery Cranks TSU Air Show

By Ellis Johnson

Not since the days of David Mayes (1967-70) have professional football scouts eyed Texas Southern University's football team with more than a passing interest in its quarterback.

But this year it is different, not only with pro scouts, but also the Tigers' opponents. While the pro scouts will concern themselves with whether Garland Montgomery can make the grade as a pro, the college scouts will occupy themselves with devising a defense to stop his sling-shot passing and better than average running.

Montgomery, a 6-3, 190-pound senior from Fort Worth who rose from the No. 1 placement-holder and No. 5 quarterback in just a season and half of competition to starting quarterback, embarks on his final season this year. And it has a lot of people worrying.

"Montego", as he is called by his teammates, proved without a doubt over the last two seasons that he was a class passer and a versatile signal-caller. As a sophomore, he was selected the top quarterback in the Southwestern Athletic Conference and won all-conference honors.

As a junior last season, Montgomery came into his own, as the team offense was shifted to a more open attack allowing him to utilize his backs for passes. The result was 98 completions out of 219 attempts for 1,476 yards and 12 touchdowns. The passing statistics ranked him No. 2 in the conference in passing and he was the total offense leader in the SWAC with 1,614 yards.

His career statistics show 349 passes attempted, 147 completions, 2,314 yards passing, 18 interceptions and 20 touchdowns by passing. He rushed 127 times, gained 224 yards and scored seven touchdowns.

He edged Mayes' name out of the TSU record book in the 34-28 loss at Jackson State last year. Montgomery passed for 352 yards for a single game school mark. He set another record by attempting 49 passes and tied Mayes' mark of 27 completions in a single game.

"The records were fine", recalled Montgomery. "But I would have much rather won the game. I didn't know that I had set any records until a couple of days later. The loss was on my mind.

"But we have a better shot this year," added the soft-spoken business major. "We had a good team last season. After the coaches opened up the offense and let me go to my backs on passes, we really started to come on. But our defense wasn't stopping enough people.

"However, we could have scored more points and that would have still made us a winner," reasoned Montgomery. "It still could have been the offense's fault. But we are a team and we all have to think in terms of doing our best together. That is what I plan to concentrate on this year."

Montgomery has outstanding receivers back. Returning are Donald Bolden and Ernest Pough, the top receivers last season. Bolden, a flankerback in the power I formation, caught 47 passes for 803 yards to lead the conference. Pough, who was a tailback last season but will play split end this season, had 18 receptions for 323 yards.

Donald Flowers, who replaces the graduated Willie Agson at tight end and Ben Scott, who takes Jack Holmes' fullback spot, both sophomores, lack experience as receivers but are better than average blockers. Holmes was the third leading pass receiver with 19 receptions last year.

While Montgomery will be playing the season with the hope of a pro career afterwards, his main concern is that this be the best team in TSU history. "I play football for the love of the game," concluded Montgomery.

GREETINGS FROM THE PRESIDENT OF BETHUNE-COOKMAN COLLEGE

GREETINGS!!

I extend greetings to all Texas Southern University students, fans, and friends on behalf of the Bethune-Cookman College family in Daytona Beach and everywhere.

For many years, our colleges have competed in intercollegiate gridiron activities, but never against each other. I sincerely hope that this rivalry between Texas Southern University and Bethune-Cookman College will continue for many years to come.

We are indeed pleased to participate in the double-header in this fine stadium, and we trust that in whatever contests we are engaged, there will be friendly good will, good sportsmanship, and a competitive spirit prevailing throughout.

Dr. Oswald P. Bronson

PROSPECTUS

by Larry Wesley - BCC

BETHUNE-COOKMAN: The Wildcats lost little through graduation last year. But gone from the team of a year ago are All Americans Wayne "Hoss" Allen, runningback, and mammoth defensive tackle Al Burton. Even with the loss of the likes of Allen and Burton and company, the 1975 Wildcats are not hurting.

Coach Wesley Moore enters his third year at the helm, and he has 40 lettermen returning. Coach Moore will still employ his awesome wishbone attack, along with the "I" formation, and the Veer "T" offense. Look for him to use a host of runningbacks, but watch for two in particular, Booker T. Williams, and Herman Pruitt, to carry most of the rushing load. Moore has all three of his quarterbacks back from a year ago. Willie Collins, Victor Smith, and Reggie Beverly are three QB's who compliment one another beautifully. Collins is a bruising runner; Smith, the aerial wizard, and Beverly is a magician — a real slick ball handler. The interior linemen and wideouts remain in tact, from last year.

Defense is the name of the game at BCC, and well it should be with eight starters returning. Captains Arnold Robinson and Willie Jackson lead "Tank's Terrors," as they are called. Listen and look for Willie "Foots" Lee, a 265 pound 6'6" tackle to be an important figure in the Wildcats' success. There is depth at every position, especially the linebackers and deep secondary. As a whole, the Wildcats look ready.

Miss TSU 1975-76 Rachael Elaine Bell

After one of the closest student elections of all time, Rachael Elaine Bell emerged as the 29th Miss TSU. A native Houstonian, she attended Jack Yates High School and graduated with honors in May, 1971.

As Miss TSU, Ms. Bell is the official hostess of the university, representing the student body. For this, she is well qualified.

The current Miss TSU is a senior in the School of Business, majoring in Business Education. She is a member of the Mack H. Hannah Junior Chamber of Commerce and Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.

Rachel enjoys reading, listening to music and meeting people. She also enjoys sports.

THE OCEAN OF SOUL

Texas Southern University is the home of the Ocean of Soul Marching Band. The band received this name when, in 1969, it was reorganized and modernized, bringing it in tune with the contemporary mood of the University.

The consensus was that appropriate attention should be paid to that undefinable ingredient that is so much a part of the urban (and black) scene—SOUL. This natural phenomenon could best be described in terms of the rhythmic, fluid, engulfing and sometimes forceful and violent — forces of nature. Hence, that tidal wave of sight and sound, "The Ocean of Soul Marching Band of Texas Southern University" was named.

The 1975-76 edition of the Ocean of Soul boasts 200 members, including 15 dancing majorettes, three drum majors, and a featured twirler.

Although most of its music is contemporary — found on the top 20 of the Soul music charts — its repertoire ranges from Beethoven through Bacharach to B.B. (King). To perfect weekly football shows, and for special appearances such as this one, the Ocean has been known to rehearse as much as 40 hours in a week without any negative effect on the esprit 'd' corps.

Benjamin J. Butler, II is director of the Ocean. He is a product of Tennessee State University, where he also worked as assistant band director prior to his 1969 arrival at Texas Southern. He is assisted by Henry Ewell, also a Tennessee State product, and Howard Harris, who came to TSU from Southern University.

Taylor Flashes to 440 Record in SWAC Meet

Reprint from Houston Chronicle 5/10/75

BY W.H. STICKNEY
Chronicle Staff

Robert Taylor no longer doubts the wisdom of Texas Southern University track Coach Dave Bethany and his plans for practice sessions before a meet.

The speed work Taylor labored through during the past week paid off Friday night in a 45.7 clocking in his heat of the 440-yard dash, the third-fastest quarter-mile run in the nation this season.

Taylor's performance highlighted the first day of action in the annual Southwestern Athletic Conference track and field championships at Butler Stadium. The meet continues today with finals beginning at 6 p.m.

"That speed work was worth it," Taylor said with a smile as he received congratulations from Bethany following the race which also set a meet mark. Taylor balked at the strenuous work all of last week.

"After I ran 45.7 in the prelims today I talked with my teammates and they told me they felt I could go 45.0. I was just strong today Taylor said, obviously confident he has overcome a leg injury that has plagued him for a great portion of the year.

The 46.6 came in the first round of the prelims Friday afternoon, when Taylor came back in the semifinals with his SWAC record 45.7.

TSU led the meet through the first day of competition in which only four finals were staged in the men's division. The Flying Tigers amassed 30 points to outdistance second-place Southern University (26) and Prairie View (18).

TSU gained its advantage on the strength of a first-place finish in the shot put by Chris Strommen, who shoved the 16-pound ball 51 feet, 7 inches. Lonnie Lewis of PV finished second at 51-2.

Curtis Foster of TSU finished second in the steeplechase in 9:46.1. Southern's Esau Lolis won the event, clocking 9:37.1.

Taylor remained near the middle of the pack in the 440 until the third curve when he turned on a burst of speed that carried him to the front. When he led second-place finisher Larry Ellis of Jackson State by a full 10 yards Ellis was timed at 47.4.

"I just proved today that I was stronger coming home than they (the rest of the field) were," Taylor said.

Asked if he feared a charge by one of the others in the field once he grabbed the lead. Taylor replied, "Once I get a lead I don't think anybody can come and catch me."

Taylor's time established a school record surpassing the previous mark of teammate Maxrea Tolen, 47.2. Tolen won his heat in 46.7.3.

TSU Wins Fourth SWAC Title in Row

Defending champion Texas Southern University, fielding an abbreviated squad of only 20 men, finished first in only five of the 13 events in the men's division of the Southwestern Athlete Conferences track and field championships. But the Flying Tigers captured their fourth straight SWAC title Saturday, heading the field with 143½ points.

Jackson State finished second with 108.

While Robert Taylor starred for the Tigers in the running events, his performance was somewhat overshadowed by teammate George Clifton, who captured his third consecutive conference high jump title, soaring over the bar at 6-10.

"When I jump its because of what's inside, from the heart," said Clifton, prior to his jump. "I rarely have very much competition, so my performance is self-motivated," continued the 6-3, 175-pound senior. "every time I go out I feel like I can win."

Taylor, who suffered from severe leg muscle spasms throughout the year, won the open 440 and ran a leg of the 440 relay unit before retiring to the sidelines again complaining of the leg malady.

Taylor's presence on the mile relay unit was sorely missed as his substitute, younger brother James, lost a five-yard lead on the third leg and fell behind by 10 yards. Maxrea Talen, anchoring the unit, couldn't make up the difference and the Tigers finished a dismal fourth.

TSU scored most of its wins in the field events, capturing the hammer throw, the discus and the shot put. Chris Strommen seized both the shot and the hammer, placing the 16-pound ball 51-7 Friday and tossing the hammer 136-2.

Leander Walker added a first in the discus hurling the platter 152-1.

Prairie View, a third-place finisher overall turned in probably the most outstanding performance of the second day's competition.

The mile relay unit of Cornell Evans, Jonathan Beal, Cyrano Revada and John Derrett hooked up for a winning time of 3:08.8, one of the best times in the event thus far in the nation, and the best time by a small college.

During the two-day meet 12 records were established, with 10 coming in the women's division, where several new events were staged this year.

Jackson State's Hubert Butler got one of the two men's marks Saturday, clearing 15-6 in the pole vault.

TSU which led Southern University after completion of the first day of the meet, 30-26, increased the margin to 101 to 68 through the first 16 events Saturday. From that point the meet was no longer in doubt.

The Flying Tiger 440 relay unit began the avalanche of points, finishing second to Grambling, which clocked a 39.9.

Jimmy Raglon staked the Tigers to a narrow lead over Southern on the first leg. But while most of the crowd watched the developing battle between TSU and Southern, Joe Sincere of Grambling took the baton on the final leg and quietly sprinted to the front, barely nipping TSU's Maxrea Tolen at the wire. TSU finished in 40.0.

Robert Taylor, who set a meet record in a 440 dash prelim Friday with a time of 45.7, after running the third leg of the 440 relay unit, returned later to capture the 440 finals in 46.2. Tolen finished second, six-tenths of a second behind Taylor at 46.8.

Moreland Named Basketball Coach

Robert L. Moreland, formerly head basketball coach at Utica junior college in Mississippi, has been named head basketball coach at Texas Southern University.

Moreland, who has an overall basketball coaching record of 273 wins and 76 losses for a .780 winning percentage, replaces Kenneth McCowan who was relieved of coaching duties at the close of the season.

Moreland, 37, is a graduate of Tougaloo College and Indiana University. He coached at J.G. Green high school in Carthage, Mississippi one year before moving to Utica in 1963.

Moreland's teams at Utica have participated in the NJCAA regional VII tournament for nine consecutive years. He won the tournament seven times.

This past season the Bulldogs compiled a 32-4 record while winning the regional championship and defeating Flat River Missouri junior college for the right to advance to the National Junior College Basketball tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas.

Utica finished third in the national tournament, defeating Esses of New Jersey and Vincennes of Indiana. The team lost to Southern Idaho but beat DeKalb of Decatur, Georgia for third place honors. Southern Idaho lost 65-57 in the championship game to Western Texas of Snyder.
